

How to use

This package comes with 4 folders containing png files of various Bodies, Facial Expressions, Hair Styles and Clothing Styles as separate layers.

When you take a layer from each folder and put them on top of another in the same size and position, they form an image as seen below. They can be either placed together in your scene (recommended if you want to have a lot of different variations of characters) or you can merge the layers in a graphic program of your choice (if you don't need many characters and want to save resources).
